Dear Brent,

Recently someone asked me what I thought it took to build a successful business. I gave an answer based on what I have been fortunate enough to watch you do at Master Seal.

You and I have worked together for over 20 years, based on a handshake. Master Seal has built a reputation that reflects your integrity. The staff at Master Seal is professionally trained and equipped with the best equipment in the industry. Customer service, expert installation and high-performance materials are what your customers have come to expect over the years. You continue to deliver and lead the market in pavement maintenance.

Thank you for letting us be part of your success.

Best Regards,

Lee
